So many young carers feel unseen and unheard at school. I believe that having a Young Carer Champion, a teacher each young carer knows is in their corner would increase their confidence and wellbeing hugely.

Young carers: what we currently know

Current figures of young carers in England & Wales:

- 166,000 [National Census, 2011]
- ~800,000 [The Children’s Society, 2020]
- 18,110 [Characteristics of Children in Need, 2022]

The Department previously commissioned researchers from Loughborough University and Kantar to explore the lives of young carers:

- 420 households were found to contain at least one young carer between the ages of 5 and 17, from a larger sample of 79,629.
- 10% of respondents reported receiving support from their school.
- Nearly 66% were not receiving any support.

Young Carers in Schools

• Laura Bennett, Head of Policy and External Affairs, Carers Trust
Carers Trust is a major charity for, with and about carers.

We work to improve support, services and recognition for anyone living with the challenges of caring, unpaid, for a family member or friend who is ill, frail, disabled or has mental health or addiction problems. Our vision is that unpaid carers count and can access the help they need to live their lives.

The Carers Trust Network is the leading, and largest, provider of comprehensive, frontline, face to face and online carer services in the UK.

With our 121 Network Partners, we reached over 850,000 unpaid carers and supported 429,000, including 54,000 young carers and young adult carers in 2020/21. Our network also includes services providing homecare in England and Wales.
• Partnership programme with The Children’s Society: https://youngcarersinschools.com/

• Gain national recognition for raising outcomes for young carers through the Young Carers in Schools Award (England-only).

• Identify manageable steps to improve educational outcomes for this vulnerable pupil group – the programme breaks down the actions schools can take so that your school can prioritise what to do next.

• Access additional support including tools, templates and good practice examples, webinars and professional development events.
Once schools identify young carers and young adult carers, we hope that they can use data from the school census to make that offer of support from the school to young carers.

Schools only need to do the education part, working in partnership with their local NHS, local council and local carers services to deliver wrapround, holistic, support.

Young Carers in Schools can help schools do the education part.
• Young carers and their families are entitled by law to an assessment of their needs, and to support if the assessment shows this is needed - This will either prevent young carers from needing to undertake caring responsibilities at all, or avoiding young carers taking on excessive or inappropriate caring responsibilities.
  • Support could include young carers with commissioned breaks and time outside of caring, including through local carers support services, and providing family members have been given more support to prevent a young carer from caring.
  • We hope in time that the attainment and attendance data will show for young carers and young adult carers, and their future life chances, including their future education and employment.

Dear governors

Meeting the needs of young carers at [INSERT NAME OF SCHOOL]: Information for governors

At [name of school] we are aware that some of our pupils are young carers – children under 18 who are caring unpaid for a family member or friend who is ill, frail, disabled or has mental health or addiction problems. Young carers are a vulnerable and disadvantaged group who frequently experience difficulties in their education as a result of their caring role. They are specifically mentioned in Ofsted’s evaluation inspection schedule and are often eligible for free school meals and Pupil Premium Funding.

Identifying and supporting pupils with caring responsibilities is a low cost and effective way of improving the attainment of the often low achieving pupil group. We are therefore keen to ensure that our governors have the information and resources they need to consider the needs of young carers as part of their evaluation of the school’s provision and how well it meets the needs of our pupils.

As part of the Young Carers in Schools programme, a national initiative to equip schools and award effective practice, Carers Trust and The Children’s Society have produced specific resources for governors. Relevant resources are enclosed and include:

• Key information about young carers and the potential impact a caring role can have on a pupil’s academic achievement, attendance and wellbeing.
• The roles and responsibilities of the governing body in ensuring effective provision for young carers.
• Frequently asked questions for school governors and senior leadership teams.
• A checklist to support governing bodies in evaluating the effectiveness of their school’s provision.
• Further information about the Young Carers in Schools programme.

We recommend that governors schedule an agenda item to discuss their school’s support for young carers. We encourage the governing body to consider appointing a lead governor with this remit and to agree how the governing body will carry out its responsibilities in relation to young carers.

The school has/intends to appoint a Young Carers’ School Operational Lead who will carry out a baseline review of the school’s current provision for young carers and their families. We will provide a summary of this review and relevant recommendations prior to your discussion.

Yours faithfully

---

Scoring for the MACA-YC18

For the MACA-YC18 each of the items are rated on a 3-point scale, ‘Never’, ‘Some of the time’, and ‘A lot of the time’.

For scoring purposes:

‘Never’ = 0
‘Some of the time’ = 1
‘A lot of the time’ = 2

Overall Score of Caring Activity

The MACA-YC18 can be used to provide an overall summary score (index) of caring activity by totalling all 18 items. The lowest the young person can score is 0 and the highest the young person can score is 36. For example, if the young person ticks ‘never’ for each of the 18 items, they would get a total score of 0 but if they ticked ‘a lot of the time’ for each of the items, they would get a score of 36. Of course, most children and young people will score somewhere in between these two extremes. The average score is around 14.

Interpretation of scores on the MACA-YC18

Higher scores indicate greater levels of caring activity. The following categories are useful:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Score</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>0</td>
<td>No caring activity recorded</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1-9</td>
<td>Low amount of caring activity</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10-13</td>
<td>Moderate amount</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14-17</td>
<td>High amount</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>18 and above</td>
<td>Very high amount of caring activity</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Subscale scores

For more sophisticated research and assessment purposes where an individual profile for the young person is required, it is also possible to use the MACA-YCB to identify the pattern of caring activity in six domains (subscases):

1. Domestic Activity – the extent to which the young person engages in activities such as cleaning, cooking, washing dishes or clothes etc.

2. Household Management – the extent to which the young person engages in activities to keep the household running such as shopping, household repairs and lifting heavy objects etc.

3. Financial and Practical Management – the extent to which the young person helps financially (for example with bills, benefits and banking), and takes practical adult responsibilities (such as working part-time, interpreting) etc.

4. Personal Care – the extent to which the young person engages in caring activities such as helping the person dress and undress, wash and use the bathroom, helping with mobility and giving health care (such as administering medicine or changing dressings) etc.

5. Emotional Care – the extent to which the young person provides company and emotional support to the person, keeping an eye on them, providing supervision and taking them out.

6. Sibling Care – the extent to which the young person is responsible for looking after siblings either alone or with a parent present. This excludes any young person caring for his/her own child.

To calculate subscale scores:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subscases</th>
<th>Add the scores from the following questions:</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Domestic Activity</td>
<td>Questions 1, 2 and 3</td>
</tr>
<tr>

<tr>
<td>Emotional Care</td>

<td>Questions 16, 17, and 18</td>

- Siblings
- Young carers supporting someone because of substance misuse

Supporting Siblings – Young Carers Policy Forum

Clare Kassa, Chief Executive, Sibs  clare@sibs.org.uk
The sibling journey starts in childhood

Children and young people who grow up with a brother or sister who is disabled, has special educational needs or a serious long-term condition may:

- Have less attention
- Have more worries
- Experience prejudice
- Be young carers
- Struggle with sleep, friendships and school-work
- Have experienced challenging behaviour
- May be overachievers, very passive or act out
Siblings as young carers

- Siblings are hidden young carers
- Needs often overlooked
- Often caring for multiple family members
- Sibling carers may be supporting brothers and sisters with behavioural challenges
- More likely to be caring for someone with a learning disability/autism than other young carers
- Might be providing care in school time
- It can be lifelong caring
Conflicts and Contradictions

siblings often have to juggle competing influences and challenges which are often little understood by their peers, schools and communities.

Supporting children of parents with a mental illness

Andy McGowan
Public Affairs and Policy Officer
Our Time
One in three children and young people live with a parent with depression or anxiety.

1 in 10 live with an adult with severe mental illness.
Why do they need support?

These children are:

• Three times more likely to develop mental health problems themselves (Mental Health of Children and Young People in England, NHS Digital (2017))

• Often not identified until their situation reaches crisis/safeguarding point. This is often because they don’t see themselves as young carers

• Often missed because so much of their support is emotional or because the biggest issue is the impact on them

• Parental mental health difficulties were a factor in more than half of Serious Case Reviews (NSPCC, 2015)
How to improve identification

Language is key
- If you only ask about pupils supporting someone with a disability, then this cohort of young carers will always be missed.
- Specifically mentioning mental illness is key as is raising awareness of mental health generally.
- There can often be a fear/distrust of professionals, so making clear why you’re asking about young carers can really help identification.

It’s not just the physical side
- For many young carers supporting someone with a mental illness – it’s the emotional side they find most difficult.
- There can also be the challenge that mental health can dramatically fluctuate, sometimes being stable for months or even years and then quickly into a crisis.
- For others, there is the juggling of mental health with physical illness/disability or substance misuse.
